

CLS 56 Digital Repository Program

The 56th Annual Meeting of the Chicago Linguistic Society*

Organizers: Matthew Hewett, Corinne Kasper, Sanghee Kim, Naomi Kurtz, James Waller

How to navigate: Click on 'Abstract' or a paper's title to be redirected to its page.

Special Session: RESUMPTIVITY

Johannes Hein & Doreen Georgi (Universität Potsdam)	Abstract	On the interaction of extraction and argument marking in Asante Twi
Kenta Kakenami (Aoyama Gakuin University)	Abstract	On the extraction of predicative phrases in English non-restrictive relative clauses

Special Session: SPEECH ACTS

Aitor Lizardi Ituarte (Euskal Herriko Unibertsitatea [University of the Basque Country], UPV/EHU)	Abstract	Different scope relations between discourse particles and intonation: The case of Basque ba
--	--------------------------	--

General Session Talks

Chaoyi Chen (Rutgers University)	Abstract	Presupposition licenses limited ellipsis: Evidence from the non-verbal wh-question in Mandarin
Koji Kawahara (Nagoya University of Foreign Studies)	Abstract	Introducing iconicity: The semantics of ideophones and the quotative particle
Jian Gang Ngui (University of Arizona)	Abstract	A unified analysis of Mandarin long and short bei-passives

Posters

Brian Agbayani & Toru Ishii (California State University, Fresno & Meiji University)	Abstract	Multiple sluicing constructions in Japanese
---	--------------------------	---

*Papers are organized alphabetically by first author's last name.

Duk-Ho Jung & Grant Goodall (University of California San Diego)		Sprouting is not island-sensitive
Demet Kayabaşı & Kadir Gökgöz (Boğaziçi University)	Abstract	The causative-inchoative alternation in Turkish Sign Language and the age of acquisition effects on complex clauses
Rebecca Lee (University of Colorado Boulder)	Abstract	Ideology, frame semantics, and variation: A cognitive sociolinguistic study of the English lexeme racist
Andrew McInnerney (University of Michigan)		Reevaluating the reanalysis analysis of prepositional passives [Handout, Presentation]
Luis Miguel Toquero-Pérez (University of Southern California)	Abstract	The syntax and semantics of Spanish comparatives: A uniform account