Day 1 Schedule (Thursday, May 6)

All events held on Zoom. All times are listed in CDT (Chicago time). Presentation titles are clickable and lead to the appropriate ${\bf Zoom\ Room.}$

	Left column/Plenaries: Zoom Room A - Thursday	Right column: Zoom Room B - Thursday
10:00 AM	•	REMARKS
10:00-11:00	Invited Presenter: Sandhya S	undaresan (University of Göttingen)
	To Be Announced
	Special Session	General Session
	SYNTAX OF SOUTH ASIAN LANGUAGES	General I
11:15-11:45	Troy Messick & Sreekar Raghotham	Jun Lyu (University of Southern Califor-
	(Rutgers University): Morphosyntax values	nia), Yaning Yan (Renmin University of itself	China) & Elsi Kaiser (University of Southern California): Disentangling locality and re-
11.4F AND	T-l: Cl (II : :// CD II:) C	cency in the processing of Chinese reflexives
11:45 AM- 12:15 PM	Ishani Guha (University of Delhi), Swarnendu Moitra (Jadavpur University) &	Sean Foley (UNC-Chapel Hill): The acoustics of apical vowels in two endangered Ngwi
12.10 1 W	Paul Marty (University College London):	languages
	Inverse Scope in scrambling languages: the	languages case of Bangla
12:15-12:45	Samir Alam & Elango Kumaran:	Andrija Petrovic (Stony Brook Univer-
	(University of Southern California): Focus	sity): Vowel fronting in Serbian noun inflec-
	and multiple agreement in Maithili	tion
12:45-1:30		NCH
	General Session	General Session
1 00 0 00	Semantics I	SYNTAX I
1:30-2:00	SEMANTICS I Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long-
1:30-2:00	SEMANTICS I Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI-
1:30-2:00	SEMANTICS I Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful conces-	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long-
	SEMANTICS I Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni'	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction
1:30-2:00 2:00-2:30	SEMANTICS I Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti-
	SEMANTICS I Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual condi-	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti- cut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Move-
	SEMANTICS I Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti- cut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Move- ment In Turkish and Uyghur
2:00-2:30	Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual conditionals in Lachirioag Zapotec	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti- cut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Move-
2:00-2:30	SEMANTICS I Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual conditionals in Lachirioag Zapotec Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long-distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI-construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecticut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Movement In Turkish and Uyghur Aaron Doliana (University of Maryland):
2:00-2:30	SEMANTICS I Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual conditionals in Lachirioag Zapotec Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen): Keeping 'only' exclusive in conditional antecedents	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti- cut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Move- ment In Turkish and Uyghur Aaron Doliana (University of Maryland): Why must wh-quantifiers in German strand
2:00-2:30 2:30-3:00	SEMANTICS I Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual conditionals in Lachirioag Zapotec Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen): Keeping 'only' exclusive in conditional antecedents 15-MINUT	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti- cut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Move- ment In Turkish and Uyghur Aaron Doliana (University of Maryland): Why must wh-quantifiers in German strand with complex wh-phrases? TE BREAK Wright (University of Michigan)
2:00-2:30 2:30-3:00 3:00-3:15 3:15-4:15	Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual conditionals in Lachirioag Zapotec Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen): Keeping 'only' exclusive in conditional antecedents Invited Presenter: Kelly E. Race & Language: Considering	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti- cut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Move- ment In Turkish and Uyghur Aaron Doliana (University of Maryland): Why must wh-quantifiers in German strand with complex wh-phrases? TE BREAK Wright (University of Michigan) g Black Linguistic Experiences
2:00-2:30 2:30-3:00 3:00-3:15	Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual conditionals in Lachirioag Zapotec Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen): Keeping 'only' exclusive in conditional antecedents Invited Presenter: Kelly E. Race & Language: Considering	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti- cut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Move- ment In Turkish and Uyghur Aaron Doliana (University of Maryland): Why must wh-quantifiers in German strand with complex wh-phrases? TE BREAK Wright (University of Michigan) g Black Linguistic Experiences TE BREAK
2:00-2:30 2:30-3:00 3:00-3:15 3:15-4:15	Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual conditionals in Lachirioag Zapotec Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen): Keeping 'only' exclusive in conditional antecedents Invited Presenter: Kelly E. Race & Language: Considering 15-MINUTE. Poster Session I	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti- cut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Move- ment In Turkish and Uyghur Aaron Doliana (University of Maryland): Why must wh-quantifiers in German strand with complex wh-phrases? TE BREAK Wright (University of Michigan) g Black Linguistic Experiences TE BREAK Poster Session II
2:00-2:30 2:30-3:00 3:00-3:15 3:15-4:15 4:15-4:30	Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual conditionals in Lachirioag Zapotec Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen): Keeping 'only' exclusive in conditional antecedents Invited Presenter: Kelly E. Race & Language: Considering 15-MINUTE. Poster Session I GENERAL	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti- cut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Move- ment In Turkish and Uyghur Aaron Doliana (University of Maryland): Why must wh-quantifiers in German strand with complex wh-phrases? TE BREAK Wright (University of Michigan) g Black Linguistic Experiences TE BREAK Poster Session II SYNTAX & SEMANTICS
2:00-2:30 2:30-3:00 3:00-3:15 3:15-4:15	Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual conditionals in Lachirioag Zapotec Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen): Keeping 'only' exclusive in conditional antecedents Invited Presenter: Kelly E. Race & Language: Considering 15-MINUT Poster Session I GENERAL Eszter Ótott-Kovács (Cornell Univer-	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti- cut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Move- ment In Turkish and Uyghur Aaron Doliana (University of Maryland): Why must wh-quantifiers in German strand with complex wh-phrases? FE BREAK Wright (University of Michigan) g Black Linguistic Experiences FE BREAK Poster Session II SYNTAX & SEMANTICS Alexandros Kalomoiros (University of
2:00-2:30 2:30-3:00 3:00-3:15 3:15-4:15 4:15-4:30	Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen) & Toshiko Oda (Tokyo Keizai University): Regretful concessions: on Japanese 'noni' Elizabeth Sola-Llonch (UCLA): A first look at conditionals and counterfactual conditionals in Lachirioag Zapotec Alexander Wimmer (Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen): Keeping 'only' exclusive in conditional antecedents Invited Presenter: Kelly E. Race & Language: Considering 15-MINUTE. Poster Session I GENERAL	SYNTAX I Fulang Chen (MIT): Three anti long- distance dependency effects in Mandarin BEI- construction Robin Jenkins (University of Connecti- cut): Scrambling and Successive Cyclic Move- ment In Turkish and Uyghur Aaron Doliana (University of Maryland): Why must wh-quantifiers in German strand with complex wh-phrases? TE BREAK Wright (University of Michigan) g Black Linguistic Experiences TE BREAK Poster Session II SYNTAX & SEMANTICS

4:40-4:50	Eleanor Glewwe (Grinnell College): The Phonological Determinants of Tone in English Loanwords in Mandarin	Teruyuki Mizuno (University of Connecticut): Argument ellipsis, topicality, and a theory of null anaphora
4:50-5:00	Kaili Vesik (University of British Columbia): Vowel quantity contrasts in Estonian choral music	Ruyue Agnes Bi (MIT): Evaluativity triggered by scalar particles: a pragmatic approach
5:00-5:10	Sreekar Raghotham (Rutgers University): Privativity and Number Features: The view from Telugu	Aviv Schoenfeld (Tel Aviv University): Possessive relations and maximality
5:10-6:00	POSTER MINGLE IN	BREAKOUT ROOMS

Day 2 Schedule (Friday, May 7)

	Left column/Plenaries: Zoom Room A - Friday	Right column: Zoom Room B - Friday
10:00-11:00 AM	·
1111	Determining the Impact of Phonological Factors in Grammatical Gender Assignment Case Studies and Theoretical Implications
	General Session	General Session
11:15-11:45	SYNTAX II Jason Smith (Michigan State University): Case and Word Order in Mende	SEMANTICS II Julie Goncharov (Georg-August University of Goettingen) & Lavi Wolf (The Hebrew University of Jerusalem): Granularity in the polarity system
11:45 AM - 12:15 PM	Lefteris Paparounas & Martin Salzmann (University of Pennsylvania): First conjunct clitic doubling in Modern Greek - Implications for the theory of clitic doubling, the PCC, and the syntax of first conjunct agreement	Joshua Martin (Harvard University): Emergent privativity and constrained modulation in adjective semantics
12:15-12:45		Hary Chow & Marcin Morzycki (University of British Columbia): Zero, Measurement, Nominal Semantics, and the Ontology of Pluralities in Cantonese
12:45-1:30	LUI	NCH
	Poster Session III	Poster Session IV
1:30-1:40	GENERAL Pamela Goryczka (University of Vienna): Tutto è bene quel che finisce bene: Revisiting the function of the -isc- augment in Italo-Romance varieties	SIGN LINGUISTICS Kathleen Currie Hall, Oksana Tkachman & Yurika Aonuki (University of British Columbia): Perceived Magnitudes of Movement in American Sign Language
1:40-1:50	Ryan Walter Smith (University of Arizona): Embedded additive presuppositions under control: an operator-particle account	Hande Sevgi (Harvard University): Syntax on its own is not enough: Sign language classifiers
1:50-2:00	Martín Fuchs (Utrecht University): The Diachrony of the Present Progressive and the Simple Present in Spanish	Elena Koulidobrova (Central Connecticut State University), Gabriel Martinez Vera (Goethe Universität), Kim Kurz (Rochester Institute of Technology) & Christopher Kurz (Rochester Institute of
2:00-2:10		Technology): Revisiting gradability in ASL Yuko Asada (Showa Women's University): Weak hand holds of number signs in Japanese Sign Language
2:10-3:00	POSTER MINGLE IN BREAKOUT ROOMS
3:00-3:15	15-minute break
		Invited Presenter: Kirby Conrod (University of Washington) Queering the Narrow Syntax
3:15-4:15	•	,

	Special Session	General Session
	Phonology-Syntax Interface	Semantics III
4:30-5:00	Lara Mantovan (Ca' Foscari University	Marcin Wagiel & Pavel Caha (Masaryk
	Venice): On phrase-final lengthening in Ital-	University in Brno): The architecture of basic ian Sign Language (LIS), a gradient phe-	cardinal numerals nomenon at interface
5:00-5:30	Shengyun Gu (University of Connecticut):	Jens Hopperdietzel (University of
	On weak hand spread in Shanghai Sign Lan-	Manchester): "Verb"-framed resultatives in a
	guage: Positive and negative evidence	serializing language: Evidence from Samoan
5:30-6:00	Ksenia Bogomolets (University of Auck-	Anton Kukhto (MIT): Russian compara-
	land): Syntactic influences on stress: Noun	tives in Nanosyntax and Distributed Morphol-
	Incorporation and Denominal Verbs in Cho-	ogy guita Rarámuri

Day 3 Schedule (Saturday, May 8)

Asturday		Left column/Plenaries: Zoom Room A	Right column: Zoom Room B - Satur-
Lexical variation in sign languages: lessons from Russian Sign Language General Session SEMANTICS & PRAGMATICS		- Saturday	day
Ceneral Session SEMANTICS & PRAGMATICS PRAGMATICS & PRAGMATICS Devin Tankersley (University of New Mexico): Asking and Questioning: a look at the distribution of interrogative non-manual markers in American Sign Language 11:45 AM - 12:15 PM William Thomas (The Ohio State University): Taking stock of theories of the imperative Evidence from the behavior of "just" Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Special Session LANGUAGE CHANGE LANGUAGE CHANGE LANGUAGE CHANGE Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech Pay as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech Pay as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech Pay as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech Pay as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech Pay as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech Pay as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech Pay as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sepech Pay as praxis for		Invited Presenter: Vadim Kimmelman (University of Bergen)
SEMANTICS & PRAGMATICS SOCIOLINGUISTICS Content of Tankersley (University of New Mexico): Asking and Questioning: a look at the distribution of interrogative non-manual markers in American Sign Language William Thomas (The Ohio State University): Taking stock of theories of the imperative: Evidence from the behavior of "just" Suzio Telep (University of Colorado Boulder): Nothing racist in that comment": Spatial metaphor, syntactic variation, and sociopolysemy Suzio Telep (University of Paris): Performing whiteness through language and body: the construction of a "dominant black woman" ethos at the intersection of race, gender and class Septial Session Language (Language Change Conora in identifying pathways of language change Seyinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path Seminute SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language Septial Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future Septial future Sep		Lexical variation in sign languages:	lessons from Russian Sign Language
11:45-11:45 Devin Tankersley (University of New Mexico): Asking and Questioning: a look at the distribution of interrogative non-manual markers in American Sign Language 11:45 AM - William Thomas (The Ohio State University): Taking stock of theories of the imperative: Evidence from the behavior of "just" belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Special Session LANGUAGE CHANGE LANGUAGE CHANGE LANGUAGE CHANGE Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path Seminute per break Seminute speech (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language Sign La		General Session	General Session
Mexico): Asking and Questioning: a look at the distribution of interrogative non-manual markers in American Sign Language 11:45 AM - William Thomas (The Ohio State University): Taking stock of theories of the imperative: Evidence from the behavior of "just" belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials 12:15-12:45 Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials 12:45-1:30 Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials 12:45-1:30 Martin Kohlberger (University of Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change 2:00-2:30 Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (MeGill University): Examining contact effects in a written copus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 1:45-4:50 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermidez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Speech Play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Speech Play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Speech Play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50		Semantics & Pragmatics	Sociolinguistics
the distribution of interrogative non-manual markers in American Sign Language William Thomas (The Ohio State University): Taking stock of theories of the imperative: Evidence from the behavior of "just" sity): Taking stock of theories of the imperative: Evidence from the behavior of "just" belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Special Session LANGUAGE CHANGE 1:30-2:00 Martin Kohlberger (University of Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change 2:00-2:30 Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (University at Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 1:45-4:50 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Rebecca Lee (University in Colorado Boulder): "Nothing racist in that comment": Spatial metaphor, syntactic variation, and sociopolysemy Suzie Telep (University of Paris): Performing without ethe construction of a "dominant black woman" ethos at the intersection of race, gender and class 12:45-1:30 Bozee Telep (University of Paris): Performing without ethe construction of a "General Session Syntax" III Boznica Telep (University of Paris): Performing without ethe construction of a "General Session Syntax" III Bozenia Telep (University of Paris): Performing without ethe construction of a "General Session Syntax" III Bozenia Telep (University of California, San Diego): A Configurational in the construction of	11:15-11:45	Devin Tankersley (University of New	Gabriella Licata (UC Berkeley): Sorry, markers in American Sign Language William Thomas (The Ohio State University): Taking stock of theories of the imperative: Evidence from the behavior of "just" 12:15-12:45 Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief the semantics of partially deniable evidentials 12:45-1:30 Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief the semantics of partially deniable evidentials 12:45-1:30 Special Session LANGUAGE CHANGE 1:30-2:00 Martin Kohlberger (University of Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change 2:00-2:30 Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 1:45-4:50 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermidez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Franken (Viversity): Examining Contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50		Mexico): Asking and Questioning: a look at	not Sorry: An Intersectional Analysis of Con-
11:45 AM - William Thomas (The Ohio State University of Colorado Boul- 12:15 PM sity): Taking stock of theories of the impera- tive Evidence from the behavior of "just" 12:15-12:45 Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials 12:45-1:30 Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials 12:45-1:30 LANGUAGE CHANGE 13:30-2:00 Martin Kohlberger (University of Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change 2:00-2:30 Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:45-4:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) 5-minute BREAK Rebecca Lee (University in that comment: Spatial antelaphor, syntactic variation, and sociopolysemy Suzie Telep (University of Paris): Performing whiteness through language and body: the construction of a "dominant black woman" ethos at the intersection of race, gender and class Synnax III Dennis Ott & Gabriel DeRooy (University of Ottawa): The Syntactic Structures of Free Relative Clauses: New Evidence from Reconstruction Thomas McFadden (Leibniz-Zentrum Allgemeine Sprachwissenschaft): Tamil allocutive agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement ized probable and probab		the distribution of interrogative non-manual	gressman Ted Yoho's Infelicitous Apology
12:15 PM sity): Taking stock of theories of the imperative: Evidence from the behavior of "just" polysemy 12:15-12:45 Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Special Session LANGUAGE CHANGE 1:30-2:00 Martin Kohlberger (University of Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 13:45-4:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech Play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 General Session Suzie Telep (University of Paris): Performing whiteness through language and body: the construction of a "dominant black woman" ethos at the intersection of race, gender and class Suzian Fough (Inversity of California Classion) Suzie Telep (University of Paris): Performing whiteness through language and body: the construction of a "dominant black woman" ethos at the intersection of race, gender and class Syntax III Dennis Ott & Gabriel DeRooy (University of Ottawa): The Syntactic Structures of Free Relative Clauses: New Evidence from Reconstruction Thomas McFadden (Leibniz-Zentrum Allgemeine Sprachwissenschaft): Tamil allocutive agreement, the representation of the Seech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement between accounts of the A/A'-distinction: the view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Doubling 3:35-3:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech Palay sa praxis for a cognitive map of the future		markers in American Sign Language tive: Evidence from the behavior of "just" bleief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials 12:45-1:30 Special Session Sunt Sun	11:45 AM -	William Thomas (The Ohio State Univer-	Rebecca Lee (University of Colorado Boul-
Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials Suzie Telep (University of Paris): Performing whiteness through language and body: the construction of a "dominant black woman" ethos at the intersection of race, gender and class 12:45-1:30	12:15 PM	sity): Taking stock of theories of the impera-	der): "Nothing racist in that comment": Spa-
Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without belief: the semantics of partially deniable evidentials 12:45-1:30 Special Session LANGUAGE CHANGE 1:30-2:00 Martin Kohlberger (University of Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change 2:00-2:30 Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 4:45-4:50 Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without dentials without belief the semantics of partially deniable evidentials with each at the intersection of a "dominant black woman" ethos at the intersection of race, gender and class LUNCH Dennis Ott & Gabriel DeRooy (University of Ottawa): The Syntactic Structures of Free Relative Clauses: New Evidence from Reconstruction Thomas McFadden (Leibniz-Zentrum Allgemeine Sprachwissenschaft): Tamil allocutive agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement in the proposal particle and the theory of phi-agreement in the proposal particle and the theory of phi-agreement in the proposal particle and the theory of phi-agreement in the proposal particle and the theory of phi-agreement in the proposal particle and the theory of phi-agreement in the proposal particle and the theory of phi-agreement in the proposal particle and the theory of phi-agreement in the proposal particle and the theory of phi-agreement in the proposal particle and the theory of phi-agreement in the proposal particle and the proposal particle and particl		tive: Evidence from the behavior of "just"
dentials construction of a "dominant black woman" ethos at the intersection of race, gender and class 12:45-1:30	12:15-12:45	Peter Grishin (MIT): Assertions without 12:45-1:30 Special Session		belief: the semantics of partially deniable evi-	ing whiteness through language and body: the
12:45-1:30		dentials	construction of a "dominant black woman"
Special Session General Session Syntax III			ethos at the intersection of race, gender and
Special Session General Session SYNTAX III 1:30-2:00 Martin Kohlberger (University of Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change Reconstruction Reconstruction			class
LANGUAGE CHANGE SYNTAX III 1:30-2:00 Martin Kohlberger (University of Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change Reconstruction	12:45-1:30
Martin Kohlberger (University of Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language charge Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Distribution, Meaning and the Grammatical ization Path Saskatchewan): The importance of natural speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change 2:00-2:30 Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:45-4:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Final Corporation) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future versity of Ottawa): The Syntactic Structures of Free Relative Clauses: New Evidence from Reconstruction Thomas McFadden (Leibniz-Zentrum Allgemeine Sprachwissenschaft): Tamil allocutive agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement in the Polysynthesis: Weak Crossover in West Circassian Syntagical Proposition (Mill): Distinguishing between accounts of the A/A'-distinction: the view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Doubling 3:45-4:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future speech corpora in identifying pathways of language change Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:35-3:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50	1:30-2:00	9 \	• ` ` language change		, –	,
Evripidis Tsiakmakis & M. Teresa Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: utive agreement, the representation of the Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:35-3:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future Thomas McFadden (Leibniz-Zentrum Allgemeine Sprachwissenschaft): Tamil allocutive adligation of the Algemeine Sprachwissenschaft): Tamil allocutive agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement in the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement in the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement is presented. The representation of the Spe Espinal (Universitat Autonoma de Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: utive agreement, the representation of the Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:35-3:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Additional Representation of the Algemeine Sprachwissenschaft): Tamil allocutive agreement, the representation of the utive agreement, the representation of the Universited: utive agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement izerouse agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement izerouse agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement izerouse agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement izerouse agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement izerouse agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement izerouse agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement izerouse agreement, the representation of the Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement izerouse agreement, the representation of the Configurationality in Polysynthesis: Weak Crossover in West Circassian Sign Language Suzana Fong (MIT): Distinguishing between accounts of the A/A'-distinction: the view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Doubles agreement in Polysynthesis: Weak Crossover in West Circassian Sign Language Suzana Fong (MIT): Distinguishing between accounts of the A/A'-dis Barcelona): Modern Greek min revisited: utive agreement, the representation of the Distribution, Meaning and the Grammaticalization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:35-3:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement ization Path Speech Act, and the theory of Configurationality in Polysynthesis: Veak Crossover in West Circassian Suzana Fong (MIT): Distinguishing between accounts of	2:00-2:30	-	*
Distribution, Meaning and the Grammatical ization Path 2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:35-3:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement special special states and the theory of phi-agreement plane and the Grammatical plane ization Path Septech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement plane ization Path Ksenia Ershova (Stanford University): Configurationality in Polysynthesis: Weak Crossover in West Circassian Suzana Fong (MIT): Distinguishing between accounts of the A/A'-distinction: the view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Doubling 3:35-3:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50		- `	,
2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:35-3:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry Ksenia Ershova (Stanford University): Configurationality in Polysynthesis: Weak Crossover in West Circassian Suzana Fong (MIT): Distinguishing between accounts of the A/A'-distinction: the view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Doubling		,
2:30-2:35 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry Ksenia Ershova (Stanford University): (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:35-3:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry Ksenia Ershova (Stanford University): Configurationality in Polysynthesis: Weak Crossover in West Circassian Sugn Language Suzana Fong (MIT): Distinguishing between accounts of the A/A'-distinction: the view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Doubling 3:35-3:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future			Speech Act, and the theory of phi-agreement
2:35-3:05 Tory Sampson & Rachel Mayberry (University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:35-3:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Ksenia Ershova (Stanford University): Configurationality in Polysynthesis: Weak Crossover in West Circassian Suzana Fong (MIT): Distinguishing between accounts of the A/A'-distinction: the view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Doubling 10-MINUTE BREAK Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future	2.30_2.35
(University of California, San Diego): A Copular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language 3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:35-3:45 10-MINUTE BREAK 3:45-4:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50		^
ular SELF: The Copula Cycle in American Sign Language Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 10-MINUTE BREAK 14:45-4:50 Crossover in West Circassian Crossover in West Circassian Suzana Fong (MIT): Distinguishing between accounts of the A/A'-distinction: the view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Doubling 10-MINUTE BREAK 5-MINUTE BREAK	2.50-5.00	-	`
3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 3:35-3:45 10-MINUTE BREAK Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 Sign Language Suzana Fong (MIT): Distinguishing between accounts of the A/A'-distinction: the view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Doubling 10-MINUTE BREAK 5-MINUTE BREAK
3:05-3:35 Natália Brambatti Guzzo & Avery Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects in Brazilian Veneto 10-MINUTE BREAK 3:45-4:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50			Clossovel in West Chedistan
Franken (McGill University): Examining contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Doubling 3:35-3:45 3:45-4:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50	3:05-3:35		Suzana Fong (MIT): Distinguishing be-contact effects in a written corpus: Subjects view from Argentinian Spanish Clitic Dou- in Brazilian Veneto bling 3:35-3:45 3:45-4:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 5-MINUTE BREAK	0.00	· · in Brazilian Veneto bling 3:35-3:45 3:45-4:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 5-MINUTE BREAK
3:45-4:45 Invited Presenter: Tulio Bermúdez (University of Chicago) Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 5-MINUTE BREAK
Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future 4:45-4:50 5-MINUTE BREAK	3:35-3:45	10-minute break
4:45-4:50 5-MINUTE BREAK	3:45-4:45	Invited Presenter: Tulio Bo
		Speech play as praxis for a cognitive map of the future
4:50-5:00 CLOSING REMARKS	4:45-4:50	5-minute break
	4:50-5:00	CLOSING REMARKS		